

Incoming Student Room Selection

Before Room Selection begins, be sure to:

Check to see if you have an accepted roommate in the Housing Portal here:

<https://uwrf.starrezhousing.com/StarRezPortalX/>

The “Roommate Search” page shown here will display your accepted roommate, if you have one.

If you have an accepted roommate: Only one roommate will log in and select a room - they will assign both themselves and their roommate to beds in the room (see screenshot under “Step 3: Assign yourself and your roommate to a room” in the following instructions). Make sure you are in agreement on who will do this.

No accepted roommate? See the screen shot in the following instructions under “Step 2: Choose a wing to view its bed” showing how to view a potential roommate’s profile before assigning yourself to a room.

Have someone in mind but didn’t accept each other as roommates in the Portal? You will both need to log into the Housing Portal to choose a room. Look for a room with 2 empty beds. If no rooms with 2 empty beds are available, then in the same hall choose a room with random roommates, and talk with them about a potential room swap.

Review Hall Details:

Hall and Wing Configurations:

https://students.uwrf.edu/sites/default/files/2026-06/2026-27RoomConfigs_HallInfo_Gender_BathroomsV2.pdf

Have a list of 2 or 3 buildings where you are interested in living, as your first choice of halls may be full when your timeslot opens. Most available first year beds will be in first year halls.

Communities:

Note that there was a lottery that already occurred for themed communities, and winners were notified. There may still be empty beds available in some communities due to students declining their assigned community.

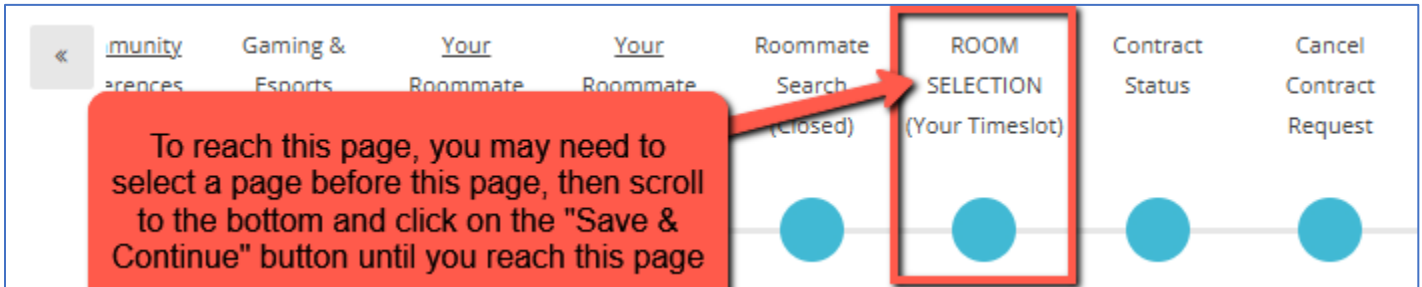

View the location of communities in halls by using the Hall and Wing Configurations link above. If empty beds are available there when you choose a room, then any student may reserve those beds regardless of major.

Communities Requiring Agreements: Before students may view empty beds in these three communities, students are required to first add the community as a preference on the “Communities” page in the Portal, then agree to its agreement that will appear on the next page after adding the community.

1. Pride Community: Johnson Hall, all 1st floor and select rooms on 2nd floor south wing
2. Substance Free Community: McMillan Hall, 4th floor east
3. Gaming & Esports Community: May Hall, 3rd floor

Find your assigned Room Selection Timeslot

The date and time that you can log in and choose a room is shown on the following page in the Housing Portal.

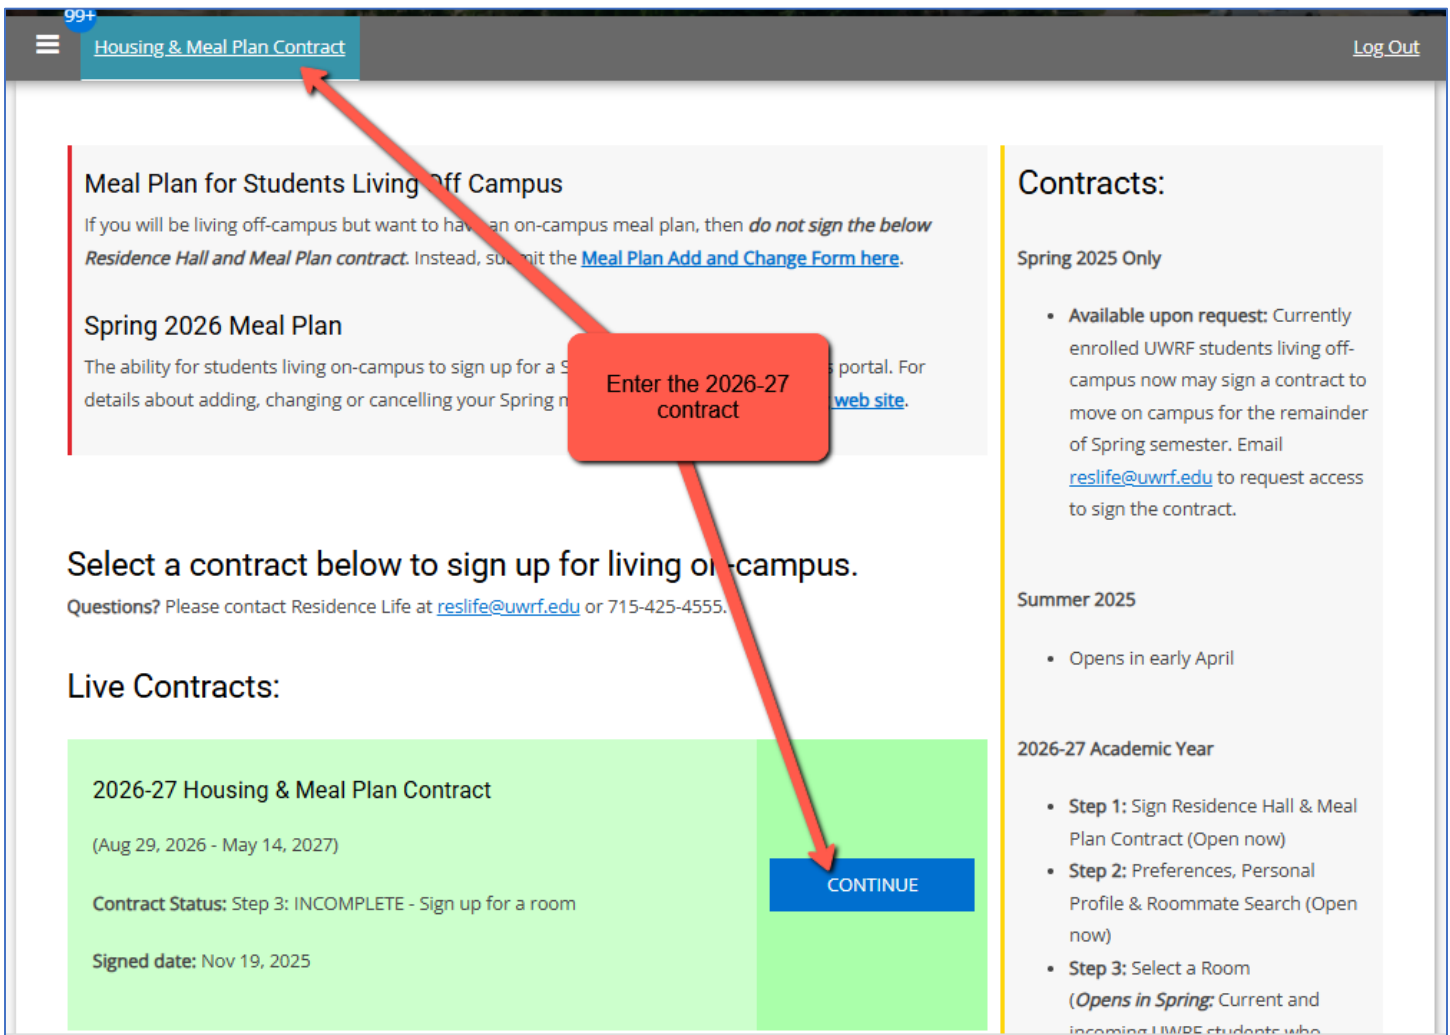

Room Selection: On your assigned date and time for Room Selection...

Log into the Housing Portal linked here, then perform steps shown on the following pages.

<https://uwrf.starrezhousing.com/StarRezPortalX/>

If you have an accepted roommate, only one roommate will log in and assign both students to a room.
